Teaching Experience

School, Position

University of Massachusetts, Amherst - Lecturer of Sound Design and Technology, Resident Sound Designer 2012 - present

I. Teaching

I designed our undergraduate sound design program, the first at UMass. I developed a student-centered, project-based curriculum focused on the art and craft of sound design for the theatre, supplemented with courses and independent studies focused on studio recording, music mixing and mastering, live sound reinforcement and mixing, and sound for film and media. Students' classroom practices and experiences come to practical and artistic fruition as they design and engineer student productions, Cabaret Series productions, and departmental main stage productions.

A. Courses

TH363 Sound Design I - an introduction to the artistry and technology of sound design, with a focus on narrative and emotional storytelling

TH463 Sound Design II - an advanced investigation of the art and technology of sound design, with a focus on applied production experience and collaboration

TH593 Sound Design Studio - a special topics course with a focus on design and engineering for our departmental main stage productions, inclusion of various additional projects based on student learning goals

TH493RM Studio Recording and Music Production - students learn mic technique and selection, recording strategies, editing and digital processing, and they use this broad skill set to develop three-song EPs of their original work, which includes recorded instrumentation, vocals, samples, virtual instruments and field recordings.

TH160 Beginning Techniques in Design - a gateway course that introduces all theatre majors to the four traditional areas of design, as well as basic stagecraft skills. I teach four lab sections each semester: one which encapsulates the sound design process from conception through execution, during which I use a recent professional design as an example, a second one focusing on audio fundamentals during which we set up and use a karaoke-style sound system, another on collaboration and a co-taught panel on professional development.

Professional Opportunities

Whenever possible, I bring with me into the professional world those advanced undergraduate students who have demonstrated a track record of commitment and excellence.

I arranged a design opportunity for Brenda Bauer with the Scandinavian American Theatre Company (SATC) for the summer of 2016; their production of Then Silence at Theatre Row's The Lion was directed by acclaimed director and translator Sarah Cameron Sunde, and I traveled to NYC to continue to advise her during

In the summer of 2014, Pam McCaddin assisted me in NYC at The Wild Project for the Queen's Company production of Sir Patient Fancy, as well as Bastards of Strindberg at The Lion with SATC. Brendan Lynch assisted me on Bristol Riverside Theatre's 2017 production of Driving Miss Daisy, and I brought Jordan Hass to observe my tech process on Bus Stop there in 2015.

I collaborated with former recording and sound design student Chris "Fizz" Fonte on original music for the New York City production of Unraveled, and included sound design student Harry Jette as my assistant sound designer.

B. Independent Studies

Voice-Over Recording for the Actor Recording, Mixing and Mastering for the Independent Musician Binaural Recording Techniques and Immersive Sound Storytelling Whole Note to Whole Score - The Designers' Guide to Reading Music Introduction to Location Recording and Sound Design for Film Sound Design and Music Composition for Video Games

* See Addendum 1 for a complete list of independent studies and descriptions.

II. Design

I am responsible for all sound designs for our department, from main stage productions to small student shows. I design about a third of our large productions, with students working alongside me as design assistants, engineers, crew and board ops. For the rest of our fully-produced plays, I advise undergraduate designers, and the occasional graduate designer from the lighting area. In addition to our main stage, I advise undergraduate designers on our Directing II student productions in connection with my Sound Design II course, the student-driven Cabaret Series (our equivalent of a second season), and student thesis productions.

III. Advising, Main Stage Productions

In addition to training our build crews and board ops for each show, I work closely with mentees as they design, assist, engineer and compose for our main stage productions.

V. Departmental Service

Outreach and Engagement Committee Member, 2017-18 Cabaret Performance Series Committee Chair, 2016-17

As committee chair, I act as Artistic Director of this series. My goals for the Cabaret Series include

- producing a relevant season of works that embody the complexity and intensity of the human experience today
- cultivating successful student-produced work by guiding students through the creative production process while, at the same time, respecting their artistic agency, which is the core of the series.
- rebranding and marketing the Cabaret in an effort to increase visibility and audience reach, both within the campus community and beyond.
- connecting our department with our community by bringing in experts from around the University to participate in talk-backs which help frame, digest and contextualize the intense and timely pieces in the series Along with the appointed committee made up of faculty and student members I created an application process and performance schedule, evaluated student production submissions, and selected student-submitted projects for inclusion in the season. I check in with student directors and their teams throughout the process, come to run-throughs, and offer thoughts to help them develop clarity in storytelling, flesh out or simplify design ideas, and grow as artists while working towards their individual goals.

Costume Design Tenure-Track Faculty Search Committee Member, 2016-17

Scenic Design Tenure-Track Faculty Search Committee Member, 2015-16

Costume Design Tenure-Track Faculty Search Committee Member. 2014-15

Departmental Personnel Committee, 2015-16

African-American Playwright-in-Residence, Visiting Full-Time Faculty Search Committee Member, 13-14 Production and Design Area Curriculum Committee, Fall 2012 - ongoing

Five College Lighting and Sound Committee, 2012 - ongoing

Departmental Space and Facilities Committee, 2012-13

Departmental Sound Engineer, 2012 - ongoing

I am responsible for designing and implementing sound systems for each production on our main stage and in our Directing II second season, or supervising students in these endeavors. I advise on student projects, support class presentations and events in our spaces. I maintain our spaces, sound shop and audio inventory. I plan and implement upgrades to our systems and to the acoustics of our spaces.

Departmental Area Manager, 2012 - ongoing

As an area manager for sound, I propose and manage budgets, and am responsible for equipment acquisition, inventory and maintenance. I supervise paid student labor and manage labor budgets throughout the year. I report to our General Manager and our Financial Officer twice yearly to present budget proposals and final accounting at the end of the fiscal year.

VI. Additional Training and Development

* See Addendum 2 for a list of on-campus and professional development workshops and programs.

Additional Teaching Experience

School, Position

American University, Lecturer of Live Sound, Spring 2012

Taught one section of Live Sound to undergraduate students. Responsibilities included creating the curriculum, lesson planning, lecturing, grading and reporting, and development of hands-on learning opportunities outside the classroom.

Discovering Worlds of Communication, Instructor of Entertainment Production, Summer 2012

Hosted by the AU School of Communication. Taught one section of sound entertainment production. Responsibilities included teaching Pro Tools to high school students from 9-12, providing guided practice on sound production for a short commercial video. Organized field trips and guest speakers. Introduced concepts of multi-track recording, sampling, MIDI, soundwave editing, processing (including reverb).

Professional Performing Arts School (Manhattan), Instructor of Sound Design, 2008 – 2009

Taught one section of Sound Design to high school students. Full teacher responsibilities included curriculum development, lesson-planning, classroom supervision, grading and reporting, communicating with parents, and attending faculty meetings. Supervision of independent projects, obtaining and supervising professional opportunities for students.

Presentations, Lectures, Panels and Mentorships

- Wingspace Panel, titled "Teaching to Topple the Patriarchy" at the Old American Can Factory, 232 3rd Street, Brooklyn
 Alice Reagan lead a conversation on strategies, methods, and challenges with me, Jane Cox (Princeton), Sandra Goldmark (Barnard) and Jeanette Yew (Sarah Lawrence). Topics included negotiating equity in the classroom, power relationships on and off stage, implicit bias, and evaluating and rethinking the cannon. March 2018
- KCACTF (Kennedy Center American College Theatre Festival) National Sound Design contest adjudicator March 2018
- KCACTF Region III Design Respondent January 2017 and 2018
- KCACTF Region III Workshop: "From Acorn to Oak Sound Design in an Hour" January 2017 and 2018
 I conducted a hands-on workshop with forty college design students; we read a page of text from Sarah Ruhl's Eurydice, researched some inspiration images to articulate and guide a design concept, we found a sound in the space that might serve as an appropriate piece of raw sonic material, recorded it, and built a sound design palette from it...in an hour!
- Columbia University, Guest Lecturer: "The Intersection of Sound Design and Stage Management: Productive Relationships and Effective Technologies", March 2009
- Columbia University, Panelist: "Producers and Designers in Dialog", December 2009
- Yale College, Masterclass Presenter: "Sound Design Concepts and Professional Development", April 2011
- American University Department of Theatre, Guest Lecturer: "Concepts in Sound Design and Storytelling", October 2011
- William and Mary Department of Theatre, Guest Lecturer: "Networking and Creative Relationships in Theatre and Film", November 2011
- University of Boulder Theatre Department, Guest Lecturer for the course Technical Design for Dance Majors: "Sound and Music for Dance", October 2014
- Franklin Pierce College Department of Theatre, Workshop: I presented a hands-on sound technology demonstration and workshop for sound students in the department. December 2013
- Bethel Elementary School (VA), Instructor of Theatre/Playwrighting Extension Program, 2011
 Creating curriculum, leading exercises and activities, supervising student playwrighting, directing plays and rehearsing ten and eleven year old students.
- Dwight/Edgewood Project, Sound Designer, 2007
 Developing design ideas with 5th grade playwrights, creating sound effects and aural environments for their original plays, writing and recording music for song lyrics composed by the students.
- Warehouse Theatre (SC), Mentor/Supervisor to beginning high school sound technicians, 2002 2003
- Fine Arts Center High School (SC), Mentor/Supervisor to technical theatre high school students, 2002 2003
- Sinfonicron Theatre Co. (VA), Supervisor and instructor to beginning college lighting students, 1999 2000

Other Projects, Publications, Sound Art

- · Article Publication: "Learning to Listen" appeared in the November 2015 issue of Stage Directions Magazine, print and online
- Article Contribution: I was invited by Vincent Olivieri to submit an original audio piece and written explanation of design process for an article he published in Stage Directions Magazine (March 2015), titled "Storm on the Heath: Why sound design matters...and always has." My aural work, a piece designed around the storm and the "crack your cheeks" speech in Shakespeare's King Lear was featured along with two other designers' work on the Stage Directions Magazine website, and the written reflection on designing for a text was included in the print version of the magazine.
- Original sound art piece created for the Toast on Jam art exhibit at Dixon Place, curated by New Georges and Sarah Cameron, 2014
- · Original Music composed for Advance Your Art podcast, hosted by Yuri Cataldo, 2015
- Interviewed for Live Design Magazine article on collaboration by Natalie Robin, a feature entitled "Putting it All on the Table", published January 2012
- Radio Ad Producer for Skin of Our Teeth, aired in Juneau, AL, September 2009 (Recording Engineer, Sound Designer, Producer)
- · Party Music Mix, Televised Connecticut Democratic Senatorial Convention, 2007
- G&E Music and Flavorlab, three month internship in a recording and post-production studio, 2009
- Sound Design, Hurricane Katrina Fundraiser Event (Directed by May Adrales), 2007
